Introduction

WHAT THIS BOOK IS

This book is in support of political action, especially independent. It is essentially a manual briefly explaining various means and stages to achieve one goal: the establishment and preservation of independent political structure and partisanship, opposite the corruption of conventional modern day politics. Although this book is geared toward this one goal and dealing with a large, expansive "regime", it is the author's sincere wish that this information is used in a multitude of ways and applied to many situations.

WHAT THIS BOOK IS NOT

Any attempts to label this book as "pro-this", "pro-that", "anti-this", "anti-that" is declared null and void. Any attempts to use this book as a scapegoat or to use its purpose or contents in any negative way should also be laid to rest. It is up to the reader to decide what to do with this information and the author cannot be held liable as the intent of this book has been laid plain.

Dedicated to the disenfranchised

Chapter I: General

1. Do not attack a regime from a moral position

Your moral opinion is of absolutely no value with regards to political warfare.
Sacrifice it for victory.

2. Set the village ablaze so you can draw out the enemy

It's better to know exactly who in the regime opposes revolutionary change than to constantly wonder, question and go after the wrong parties. Don't be afraid to be the first to attack! Plan a pre-emptive strike and those who oppose you will expose themselves. This is how you smoke them out by fire.

3. Study every facet of the regime, from its inception to present and future conditions

Knowledge, intel is more important than money or position-see this above all else

4. Stay in the middle

Never polarize your objectives...remain independent

5. Sleep with the enemy

Become as closely acquainted and intimate with the opposition as you can; sleep in their quarters, eat from their dishes..revere them while simultaneously planning their demise.

6. Catch a fire

Fight hard and selflessly, for both living and future generations. Become a martyr.

7. Neutralize and convert those who support the regime

Be weary, supporters of the regime can be more dangerous than the regime leaders themselves. They are programmed foot soldiers. Reprogram them and turn them into your foot soldiers.

8. Impose Sanctions

Provide gracious incentives for supporters of independent political action, especially in lieu of your campaign...treat supporters of the regime as political combatants.

9. Reject regime sponsored programs

It is, however, wise to support the more altruistic programs provided by the regime for the sake of those who depend on them in their daily lives as not to alienate those individuals in lieu of the campaign.

10. Let the people make the party

The people are the guiders and rulers of the campaign...you are assembled to serve them.

Chapter II: Communications

11. Write agitating literature on a consistent basis

In order to effectively communicate and constantly arouse support, it is imperative to break into print..in many forms and publications.

12. False Flag

When you break into publication you will need material frequently in order to continually engage supporters, some of which may need to be invented. Create circumstances which will enable you to achieve this.

13. Get into the film business

The vivid, illusory action on screen combined with well placed messages of empowerment will trigger the awareness and organizes action needed to achieve objectives. This is an incredible medium to exploit.

14. Sponsor your own biased radio station

The infamously one-sided theme of your program will draw much attention. Be it positive or negative, you win.

15. Raise politicians

Educate the children about class based struggle.
Instill in them the pride and courage needed to address openly, the problems that plague their communities.

16. Recruit revolutionaries from within the prison system

The expertise of such incarcerated individuals is indefensible to your plans. Exchange phone calls and letter regularly. Get them involved.

17. Offer distension as a career choice to students

Go to universities, incite rallies, hold events, set up tables, host debates; essentially devote your time and money to influencing the younger minds.

18. Sponsor politically charged entertainment

Pick out the musically, vocally, theatrically talented among the ranks and help them create, market and distribute material.

19. Charge the political circuit

Encourage and aid smaller political groups. Begin to stress the power of unification.

20. Partner with religious groups, let them bless your efforts

Incorporate the struggle, power and resolve of the persecuted congregations into the movement. Give them support and they will give you amnesty and open many doors.

Chapter III: Inauguration

21. Help charter a bank (for the people)

Start a financial institution with subsequent franchises that will act as depositories as well as offer non-predatory services in the communities in which they are located. The absence of usurious practice will fiscal advantages to both lender and borrower.

22. Acquire means to establish health care facilities

Establish these private practices for the benefit of both practitioner and patient. These will provide the people with impeccable vital medical services, especially where needed.

23. Procure real estate for the widows, orphans and disabled

Wherever sub-standard living persist, work to help those in the community build, re-build, protect and preserve their neighborhoods.

24. Build bookstores

Provide unrestricted, extensive legal and political knowledge through these special libraries.

25. Manage training bases

These bases will be crucial for the education of such subjects as; proper use of arms, physical combat, offensive and defensive strikes, emergency response, security dispatch, advanced planning, style and weaponry.

26. Authorize codes of conduct

The laws shall govern the roles and rules of all entrusted to participate in and guard this major undertaking. This will be arranged as a constitution that must be signed and ratified.

27. Designate political chapters for different territories

Chapter satellite offices should act as recruitment, examination, education, renouncement centers. Each one must have its own constitution and work in close conjunction with all others.

28. Adopt an appropriate banner

Once the proper votes, collaborations, illustrations and assignments have gone underway, a flag symbolizing tragedy and triumph through uplifting service and ever increasing progress will be commissioned.

29. Elect proficient leaders to govern the infrastructure

Carefully select a staff of chiefs to represent the internal and external objectives. They will be responsible for preserving a system of checks and balances between chiefs and chapters.

30. Conduct peaceful live marches

Direct interactive contact with the people on a frequent basis as with live marches may be the best passive military style act that could be performed.

Chapter IV: Civil

31. Clean up the labor unions/parties

The elimination of corrupt connections within the realm of labor protection is of colossal political importance. Devote many resources to helping keep ethical leadership in power wherever necessary.

32. Clean up the voting committees

Oftentimes, corrupt committees make it difficult for certain communities to make their voices heard by miscounting/disposing of votes, voter intimidation, withholding information from voters as far as location of voting facilities etc. Therefore, stress the significance of choosing an independent candidate.

33. Corrupt lawmakers

The best action to combat unequal distribution of justice is continuous, widespread legal participation on behalf of both liberated and non liberated, capacitive and non capacitive peoples.

34. Pursue direct connections with farmers

Attack connections between corrupt interest and food availability. Campaign for the restoration of fair and balanced food distribution to various communities.

35. Civilian leaders

Prepare to battle corrupt leadership on a local, municipal, regional, and national level. This will be a long term struggle as they are in the corroboration with the lawmakers, voting committees, labor parties etc.

36. Foreign representatives

Prepare to do battle politically with foreign parties who support any corruption amongst domestic leadership. This can be done by partnering with foreign parties yourself. (More on this later)

37. Financial predators

Work continuously to remove financial predators, especially from vulnerable communities. The campaign must ensure financial literacy, ability and good practices in these communities in order to bankrupt and drive these bad practitioners out.

38. Policy Enforcers

Drastic, perhaps violent action may be needed to prevent the illegal use of force by corrupt policy officers upon peoples rights along with widespread legal participation.

39. Drive out those who prey on the community

This would include gangs, drug dealers, corrupt policy enforcers, other various civil leaders such as preachers etc. If they will not comply with the vision of the campaign and give back to the communities in which they reside then they to must be driven out.

40. Businesses

If those who own businesses in various communities do not reside in that community and do not contribute to that community must be driven out as well. It is imperative that these businesses are run by those whom reside there.

Chapter V: Intelligence

41. Take up seats in any corrupt political organization

This may sound counter-intuitive, however, it is the most useful tool in understanding the structure of any regime.

42. Recruit previously trained military veterans

What better way to increase strength of arms through experience than to enlist the service of (especially the disenfranchised) previously trained military personnel.

Extend benefits to these individuals in exchange for political loyalty.

43. Arms and supplies

It is vital to understand the extent and variety of armed force in its many shapes and forms available to the regime. Amalgamate these forces and strategies in your arsenal.

44. Designated properties/hot spots

Understand the types, sizes, uses, locations, of important political roadways, bases, camps, properties or lands. Ascertain how they are used as well as strategic importance; this information is of great value.

45. Waterways, ports and maritime venues

Marinas, ports, uses thereof and political assemblies around and amongst these venues by political charged labor unions/workers etc. is of monumental importance and is a reflection of the level of political power wielded by your efforts.

46. Communication

How, when and where certain parts of any corrupt organizations political machinery exchanges information will prove immensely useful as information is the most important weapon...bar none.

47. International research

Wherever in the world a regime has important and less vital strategic locales like properties, lands and bases will be a focal point when attempting to take the campaign international.

49. Scientific discovery

Keeping abreast of scientific discovery, achievement and its relationship to political warfare and political superiority is of supreme priority.

50. Discover key financial brokers of the regime

Who is it that supports the politico-military motives of the regime?

Chapter VI: Programs

51. Emphasize the role of family

Families create tribes which create nations, businesses, law and order etc. Extend political benefits to and foster the growth of healthy families as a basis of your objectives.

52. Foster programs especially for families

Do everything from providing financial support to providing direct access to low cost education.

53. Cooperatively and peacefully take control of manufacturing industries

Encourage the people, especially business owners, entrepreneurs etc. to begin to flood into the manufacturing of all and any types of products to establish a reliable supply of goods and services.

54. Expand programs for farming families

Subsidize proper and healthy farming practices amongst producers with emphasis on steady supply and financial stability of politically affiliated farming families.

55. Unite all divided territories through political power

When spreading amongst various territories , convert both neutral and politically polarized through rigorous progressive action of your choice.

56. Establish subsidiary parties under a united front

Keep the central tenants in the forefront but foster, build, and partner with progressive political movements already in existence.

57. Dissension or any kind of internal mutiny cannot be tolerated

Opposition internally in the movement must be extinguished with peaceful, diplomatic means or else those in opposition must be expelled.

58. Recruit high profile/high net worth figures

Celebrities, donors, potentates etc. are your friends and allies with respect to furthering your campaign in many ways.

59. Foster programs that teach reading and writing

Some of the most politically advanced societies in the world have a high literacy rate amongst the people. Take this into consideration.

60. Shakedown opposing political parties

If there can be no consensus or agreement between your motives and those parties with opposing dispositions, you must compel them or expel them.

Chapter VII: Appointment

61. Foster the creation international political chapters

When you have gained sufficient power nationally, it is time to devote much time and resources to developing an international presence.

62. Recruit political strategists worldwide

Your opposition is without a doubt using some of the greatest minds to achieve their political agendas. This is not an option...you must assemble a high-powered think tank.

63. Recruit political scientists

Your ability to quickly plan and execute political action, assemble participation, concentrate effort rest on the experience and ability of those guiding such. Amass a panel of minds dedicated to ministry and counsel for completion of objectives.

64. Recruit Health Practitioners

Even the political opinion of medical personnel is of great value and must be accounted for. More on this later.

65. Build conduit schools to teach all kinds of subjects

Constructing education centers and using the progressive, accelerated nature of the political curriculum will aid in seamlessly educating and recruiting.

66. Send elected reps on political missions

Alongside charging the political circuit, leadership must branch out and begin to charge untapped locations and other arenas to expand recruitment power.

67. Permeate the popular culture

Stay in tune with the times. Progress with the overall socio-economical condition of the people. Indulge and conform a little bit. Stay amongst the young adult demographic.

68. Recruit politicians from opposing parties

Your survival depends upon being able to successfully persuade and extend amnesty in order to convert opposing politicians.

69. Help shape and reform laws regarding political contributions

Instead of trying to interfere with funds generated by other parties, help change laws in favor of campaign contributors. This will gain more favor for your efforts and open many doors.

70. Designate a political headquarters, preferably near opposing headquarters Position a central location in very close proximity to any regime controlled central location which will make attacking you more difficult.

Chapter VIII: Legislation

71. Order important political monuments to be built

In order to aid the spirit of the people and your objectives it is important to erect and dedicate physical structures that symbolically support free assembly.

72. Seek asylum for political prisoners and refugees worldwide

Constantly and consistently campaign for the gradual and systematic release of political prisoners and refugees worldwide. Contribute to human dignity and rights efforts internationally.

73. Attack any regime sponsored political action worldwide

Question and harass negatively motivated political actions abroad in order to assassinate the character and reputation of opposing parties.

74. Find mutual interest with regime allies

Now you must begin creating strategic alliances with those parties closest in mutual interest with the regime. You must begin to alienate them one by one. If no interest are found then you must treat them accordingly.

75. Expand businesses/commercial efforts international

Simply transplant your efforts in and around the central location to various friendly, foreign locations abroad in complete respect for variety of customs and laws.

76. Prepare protocols for when your businesses/offices/communities are attacked

Constant preparation in case of inevitable attack on businesses/offices and territories will save many lives and give strength and knowledge to make future attacks on you more and more unyielding.

77. Develop a complex system of communication for political action.

Arrange and establish network channels both modern and hi-tech and conventional to champion over political injustice, spread news etc.

78. Promote foreign investment in your objectives

As you gather allies and subsidiaries globally you must continually cultivate contributions.

79. Use all forms of propaganda to expose political corruption

Use all powers of media such as: radio, film, publishing speech, digital etc. to create a vigilant force that is politically aware and can quickly act to extinguish injustice.

80. Make independent political action, within reasonable means a central tenet

Stay free of the partisanship and use this independence to grow a politically superior force.

Chapter IX: More Legislation

81. Arrange regular political summits

Weekly meetings will be necessary especially in the beginning. Then as time goes on you may move them to a monthly basis.

82. Study regime sponsored propaganda tactics

Take what you learn and utilize it for political purposes

83. Use divisive, confusing tactics to conquer

Be assured that this technique will be used against you, thus making it the most important weapon below amassing and gathering intel

84. Persecute and counter regime political power abroad

To further alienate the regime's political structure...extend your operations of propaganda to these same locations.

85. Arm the people

Parallel to advocating independent political action- you should advocate (specifically for defensive purposes) holding physical weaponry- for defense of body, property and ideology.

86. Make a central political issue out of hypocrisy regarding laws of immigration Liberty of life and land are issues going beyond the scope of politics- affix your agenda upon combating oppressive immigration laws.

87. Use information and data technology

Collecting data is supremely useful and will aid you in understanding where to best place resources, where to attack etc.

88. Make health care and independent control of it a central theme

Freedom of choice within health care as opposed to regime sponsored avenues is a paramount point politically- promote importance of independent medicine.

89. Stage a coup

Pick an opposing party, destroy their reputation, interrupt their financial dealings, attack their headquarters then step in and adopt those members leftover.

90. Stage another coup

If your first coup proves successful, use subsequent coups with variations tailored to the circumstances against other parties.

Chapter X: Mobilization

91. Make international relations a central theme

In your foreign relations, specifically when you are acquiring previously opposing polarized parties; cut better deals, contribute more funds, champion better laws, do more to persuade them to adopt more independent

92. Make morals and values of family life central

Ultimately, without family all of your efforts mean nothing.

93. Special interest groups

You will not need special interest groups, however, adopting them wouldn't hurt your objectives.

94. Make food safety and security a central theme

A large part of your work to ensure quality of life within the scope of decreasing famine and attaining social justice will involve using financial power and distributive channels in the name of equality and the basic right to sustenance.

95. Do not alienate the rich or the poor

Do not do as opposing parties do and attack the diversity of livelihood of the people in order to use them as political targets.

96. Make strong education standards a central theme

With a highly talented, skilled, trained force behind these political ideals, one of the greatest political agendas ever will have been created.

97. Keep constant surveillance of key political figures

In the words, keep and send out spies. Stay aware of what they are doing and who they are with. Learn their moves.

98. Keep mobilization units in the streets

Hidden amongst the people, units should be covert yet present. Even more importantly they should be actively agitating the political crisis.

99. Execute political contracts

In the dirty shadowy reaches of politics lies a dirty game.

100. Make political arrests for those who violate political freedoms

Hold them in exile as political prisoners, exchange them for valuable goods, services and information or just convert them.

101

Unite all affiliate political parties to swallow up the regime

The total sum and grand goal is this: To aggregate and assemble as many political parties as possible under a unifying umbrella, in order to cure corruption and restore principled political balance in our reality.
